Flagstone Free Run Sauvignon Blanc 2020

A complex nose tends towards a greener cool climate style of Sauvignon Blanc. An upfront herbaceousness is followed by a bombardment of green pepper, fig leaves, star fruit and limey aromas, ending with a flintiness. This is an expression of the excellent climate and soil on which these grapes were grown. The complexity of the nose is expressed on the palate giving this wine a full, crisp and lively mouth-feel, with an after taste that lingers.

This will complement chicken bulgar, veal lemone and grilled calamari.

in the vineyard : The Free Run is a unique Sauvignon Blanc with grapes from the Elim and Elgin area. We added a dash of the Semillon to give the wine a roundness, full mouth feel and longevity.

in the cellar : We treat the fruit with fanatical care to retain as much of the natural, zesty, floral freshness as possible. We use lots of inert gas to chase oxygen away at every stage. This risky method means we are also able to capture the essence and zing of the Sauvignon Blanc grape.
We use a traditional stirring of the lees to craft a succulent, mouth-watering, balanced and above all, drinkable wine. The name Free Run comes from the method of using only the first, free-flowing, free run juice to make this wine.
