in the vineyard : Bush vine Chenin Blanc grapes were harvested at optimum fruit ripe levels to ensure a wine with elegant fruit flavours. The grapes were planted on deep red soils with a superb water retention. This leads to a good root development which supply the vines with optimum moisture during the summer ripening period.

about the harvest: The grapes were harvested between 22 â€” 23Â° Balling early in the morning and immediately cooled down to 12Â°C.

in the cellar : Extended skin contact followed. After good settling the wine was cold fermented and left on the lees for two months before filtration and bottling.
