

Bains Way Chardonnay 2006

Yellow peach aromas on the nose transpire into delicate but bright tropical fruit flavours on the palate. An easy-drinking yet elegant Chardonnay in a modern style.

An excellent match with chicken and white meats and wonderfully refreshing on its own.

variety : Chardonnay | 100% Chardonnay

winery : Wellington Wines

winemaker : André Swanepoel

wine of origin : Wellington

analysis : alc : 14.0 % vol   rs : 1.5 g/l   pH : 3.1   ta : 6.8 g/l

type : White   style : Dry   taste : Fruity

pack : Bottle

Named after the famous master road builder Andrew Bain who created the gateway to the north through Bainskloof Mountains.

about the harvest: Grapes were picked at optimum ripeness from about 23° Balling.

in the cellar : After the crush, the juice was left on the skins for 3 to 5 hours and then pressed. Only free run juice were used and the fermentation temperature was about 13°C.

