in the vineyard : Grapes originated from the Franschhoek Region Average age of vines: 10 - 15 years
Type of soil: Alluvial about the harvest: Harvested at sugar levels between 21Â° - 23Â° B.

in the cellar : After destalking, extraction is achieved by 8 - 10 hours skin contact. After separation from the skins, the juice is settled overnight. Clear juice is racked from the lees to a fermentation tank and inoculated with active dry yeast. Fermentation takes place at 12Â° - 15Â° C. The wine is allowed to ferment dry, and then racked from the lees, stabilised and filtered to be ready for bottling.
