

"Give Me A Chance" Trust Cabernet Sauvignon 2005

"Give Me a Chance" Trust Fund was initiated by husband-and-wife team Sandie and Delarey in October 2004 with the objective to make a tangible contribution in the future of a community, that can hopefully in years to come look back at this project as the turning point in their lives. The Brugman's discovered Kylemore is one of the poorest communities in our country, it is also home to a talented group of learners who dare to dream and are willing to work hard at achieving their goals. The "Give Me a Chance" Trust works to help these children realise their dreams by raising funds for scholarship programmes as well as establishing a network of strong role models to mentor these children.

Colour: Glistening Red

Nose: Full of ripe plums and a hint of raspberry

Palate: A fruity mouth feel with well balanced wood components. It's ready to drink.

This is an introductory wine that is suitable with or without the influence of food. A lasting finish that is not overpowering will entice any palate to water for more
