ageing : Full sweet wines age quite well for 2 to 3 years from vintage.

in the cellar : Special Late Harvest must be made from grapes harvested at a minimum sugar content of 22 degrees Balling. This condition, stipulated by SA law, ensures depth and complexity in the wine. The Kleinbosch Special Late Harvest 1999 is no exception - it displays the full, rich tropical fruit flavours of chenin blanc grapes harvested at optimum ripeness. The wine is a great companion to desserts of all kinds, including baked puddings and fruit salad, and the ideal way to round off a good meal.
