

RW Vineyard Selection Almond Grove Noble Late Harvest 2007 - DISCONTINUED

This full-bodied wine exhibits rich flavours of dried apricots, almonds and honey, with a lingering aftertaste of ripe peaches. On the palate, the wine is delicate but concentrated. The fine fresh acidity balances the sweetness with a long smooth finish.

in the vineyard : Almond Grove, a single vineyard with deep, well-drained red Karoo soils, is the source of this Weisser Riesling. About once every three vintages, damp warm weather conditions in this vineyard are optimal for the development of Botrytis Cineria, 'Noble Rot'. This concentrates sugars, acids, flavors and aromas and enables us to produce this late harvest wine. The perfect hang time on the vine combined with very selective picking was necessary to harvest these extremely ripe grapes. The Almond Grove farm has been owned by the Baard family since 1979, one of Robertson Winery's 35 member families.

Farm: Almond Grove

Soil type: Deep, well-drained red Karoo soils with a high lime content

Trellising: Four-wire Perold system
