

Amani Kamili Chardonnay/Viognier 2009

The Amani Kamili 2009 is a fusion of Chardonnay and Viognier grapes grown on Amani Vineyards. The nose exhibits an exotic fruit profile of lime, dried apricots, ripe passion fruit with some caramelized sugar fused with a savoury element. The nose shows a concentration that is experienced on the palate. Palate entrance is crisp and limey which is delicately balanced with a vanilla wood component and fruit concentration of apricots and a lingering salt tang. The Chardonnay component adds a mouth covering viscosity whilst the Viognier lends a puckering sensation to the finish.

Serve very chilled.

in the cellar : Both the Chardonnay and Viognier grapes were bunch sorted and whole bunch pressed for minimum phenolic extraction. On the Chardonnay 40% of the juice was cold settled overnight while the other 60% was taken directly to barrel after pressing. The Viognier was settled for 4 hours then transferred to barrel. The Chardonnay portion relies on only natural acid. Viognier was inoculated after the spontaneous ferment kicked in to benefit from both styles of ferments.

Maturation: The wine spent 9 months on lees with 16% in New French oak.
