about the harvest: Date of Harvest: February Type of Harvest: The grapes were handpicked.

in the cellar : The grapes were hand-picked from trellised vineyards, averaging 23 years for the Merlot Rosè. The vineyards are optimally situated at one to two hundred meters above sea level in the Koelenhof area in Stellenbosch. After being lightly crushed the grapes were allowed skin contact for 8 hours after which the grapes were gently pressed in order to not release harsh tannins. The juice was cold fermented at 12° - 14° C in stainless steel tanks with cultured yeast specifically suited to rosè. Reductive winemaking techniques were used to ensure minimal contact with oxygen, thus preserving the fruit character. The wine underwent lees contact for 3 months for added complexity and mouthfeel after which blending took place. Bottling followed after a light fining, cold stabilisation and filtration.
