

Leopards Leap Family Collection Cabernet Sauvignon 2015

A classic interpretation of New-world Cabernet Sauvignon from South Africa. The wine shows fragrances of redcurrant, light fruitcake nuances and soft undertones of spice. The palate is elegant with sumptuous black cherry flavours. This classic Cabernet Sauvignon is well structured, with excellent maturation potential.

"My passion for the Cape Winelands and its diversity found its expression in this classic Cabernet Sauvignon. In our constant pursuit for vineyards that give our family of wines their distinction and character, this wine met all the hallmarks I believe should be reflected in a Cape Cabernet Sauvignon. It is my pleasure to share this wine from our family collection with you."

- Hein Koegelenberg

in the cellar : Fermentation took place at 28 degrees Celsius, with daily pump-overs and punch-downs. Post fermentation with skin contact for 28 days. 60% of this wine was matured in new 225-litre French oak barrels for a period of 12 months. For the same period, the balance of the wine was matured in second-fill French oak. Prior to release, the wine was bottle-matured for a period of 11 months.
