in the cellar : This elegantly wooded dry red wine is partnered with our Ivory and thus completes the "Ebony-and-Ivory" experience, which offers you two easy-drinking, fresh and fruity wines.

The 2000 vintage yielded a slightly smaller but concentrated crop, which was excellent for wine quality. Due to colder night temperatures in January and February, the red varieties ripened with good colour retention. Our objective with the Ebony is to create a wine that is soft and fruity on the palate with a hint of wood maturation. That is why the components that we selected come from third fill barrels. The major component is Cabernet Sauvignon (54%) which was blended with Merlot (36%). A touch of Pinotage (10%) supplied the desired dimensions of fruitiness to the final composition. After blending, the wine was cold stabilized and given a bulk-filtration.

Estate bottled on 10 October 2001. The production was 8,500 x 750ml and 1,000 x 375ml bottles.
