in the vineyard : Grapes for the 2018 Mulderbosch Sauvignon Blanc were harvested exclusively from Stellenbosch, and include not only our own, but those from the slopes of Simonsberg, the Polkadraai ward, and vineyards close to False Bay on the lower slopes of the Helderberg.

about the harvest: Given the warm and dry conditions leading up to the 2018 harvest, every effort was made to ensure the grapes for our Sauvignon Blanc were harvested early in order to preserve what natural acidity there was in the grapes.

in the cellar : Almost a quarter of the blend (24%) was matured in neutral 500L barrels and has contributed richness and density of texture of this wine.
