in the vineyard : We travelled the wine regions of the Western Cape, South Africa to source small parcels of Sauvignon Blanc. Each parcel was selected to showcase the true terroir of its specific region. Each parcel has different soil types, irrigation methods and trellising systems all to suit that specific vineyard and climate.

in the cellar :
Each parcel is vinified separately at Grand Domaine to bring out the best of the terroir's character. It is then blended to showcase the best of the best in such a way that no area dominates or overpowers another to deliver the best expression of Sauvignon Blanc the Western Cape has to offer in a particular season.

The different parcels where the grapes were sourced from, include: Lutzville, St Helenabay, Ceres, Darling, Durbanville, Stellenbosch, Elgin, Botriver, Stanford and Sundays Glen. Bottling took place on 31 Jul 2018.
