

Bosman Optenhorst Chenin Blanc 2019

Colour: Pale straw with a vibrant golden rim

Nose: A mélange of apricots, nectarines, grapefruit rind, honey and almond brittle

Palate: Beautiful restrained mouthfeel. Finishes with a lively, mineral accent

This Old Vines wine has just won not one, but TWO trophies at the prestigious Old Mutual Trophy Wine Show:

- 1) The Harold Eedes Trophy for the Best Chenin Blanc on show;
- 2) and the inaugural Rosa Kruger Trophy for the Best Old Vine Wine

A great match for pork chops with braised apples, seared scallops, or a chicken casserole

Old Mutual Trophy Wine Show: Rosa Kruger Trophy for the Best Old Vine Wine

ageing : To be enjoyed in the 2 to 10 years after vintage.

in the vineyard : The grapes originated from a single vineyard site called Optenhorst, which literally means 'on the ridge'. Bush vines planted in 1952.

in the cellar : Whole-bunch pressed, settled overnight and the clear juice drawn off in the morning. Spontaneous fermentation occurred in both a concrete tank and older French oak barrels. The wine matured in these vessels for 12 months to build mouthfeel whilst retaining freshness.
