

Reyneke Reserve White 2019

Aromas of grapefruit, spiced quince, and elderflower, with a distinctive flintiness add to the fresh and vibrant nose.

This wine is structured and balanced by a good acidic line running through the palate, built on layers of fruit and floral notes, adding to the texture and complexity. An elegant wine with a drinking potential from 2021 - 2028 in the vineyard : These grapes come from specially selected sites within our Sauvignon blanc vineyards.

in the cellar : We hand sort bunches, ensuring only the best fruit is used for this wine, after which they are whole bunch pressed. The must undergoes spontaneous fermentation in 300ℓ French oak casks, 95% being new oak and 5% second fill. The wine is aged for 12 months in new French Barrique on the gross lees. Thereafter it is raked into stainless steel tank to age for a further 4 months prior to bottling.
