

Wildeberg Wild House Chenin Blanc 2021

Yellow and tropical fruit on the nose with comice pear notes. Crisp acidity with a waxy texture and hints of citrus and lychee. Fresh mandarin tang on the palate with a bright juicy finish.

To tame some of this energy and add more complexity and depth to the final wine, I've kept it on its fine lees for approximately nine months.

variety : Chenin Blanc | 100% Chenin Blanc

winery : Wildeberg Wines

winemaker : JD Roussouw

wine of origin : Paarl

analysis : alc : 13 % vol   rs : 2.1 g/l   pH : 3.28   ta : 5.6 g/l type : White   style : Dry   body : Medium   taste : Fruity pack : 0   size : 0   closure : 0

Bright, textural stuff from old, unirrigated bush vines in the Paarl region grown on sandy soils over granite bedrock.

in the vineyard : "Chenin is the backbone grape varietal of South Africa – it's the most profusely planted variety in our country and is closely associated to our wine-making identity in the cellar : Fermenting only in stainless steel ensures the freshness, character and liveliness of the wine is maintained.

To tame some of this energy and add more complexity and depth to the final wine, I've kept it on its fine lees for approximately nine months.

