

Underworld - Grenache Blanc 2019

There are few finer things than finding a cultivar that not only belongs in modern South Africa but is also PHENOMENALLY tasty.

Its delicately pithy otherness is hard to describe but searching for the right way to describe it is part of the pleasure.

Grenache Blanc belongs in South Africa, where drought-resistant cultivars are the only future for this increasingly dry region.

in the vineyard : 70% 40-year-old, unirrigated bush vines from Piekenierskloof, plus 30% younger bush vines from Paarl (hence, W.O. Western Cape) about the harvest: The Paarl component has been barrel fermented in 4-6 year old 500L French oak.
