The name says it all! Affectionately dubbed Pinno, this uncomplicated yet immensely rewarding wine celebrates South Africa's very own home grown grape variety in all its multi-faceted glory. In 1924 a pioneer in local viticulture, Professor Perold, crossed the two French varieties Pinot Noir (the classic Burgundian cultivar) and Hermitage or Cinsaut (an easy to grow and disease resistant grape).

in the vineyard : The name Pinotage was coined in honour of the new variety's parent cultivars. This unique grape has since become a national icon, and our country produces a broad spectrum of Pinotages regarding style and character. Pinno embraces everything a Pinotage Rosé should offer
