in the vineyard : The wine is a blend of Shiraz (58%), Grenache (22%) and Petite Sirah (20%). The Syrah originates from Elim, the Grenache from Walker Bay and the Petite Sirah from Franschhoek.

in the cellar : Grape varieties for the blend were sorted and fermented separately. The wines were then matured separately in 600-litre oak barrels — the Syrah and Petit Syrah in new wood and the Grenache in older barrels. After 30 months' maturation the wines were blended and then bottled during December 2019. Only 3 574 bottles were produced.
