in the vineyard :

Predominantly Malmesbury shale and Cape granite along the coastal zone and towards certain inland areas. The 13- to 17-year-old, trellised vines received supplementary irrigation to produce 10-14 tons per hectare and were grown in a Mediterranean climate, with the temperatures lowered by the cooling effect of winds and sea breezes.

about the harvest: Grapes were harvested in the early morning.

in the cellar : Grapes were gently crushed and lightly pressed at the cellar, where skin contact was allowed to create the perfect colour. Only the free-run juice was drained off to settle overnight. Fermentation took place in stainless-steel tanks under controlled temperatures between 12° and 14°C.
