about the harvest: We had a relatively normal growing season in the vineyards for a change. There was good rainfall at the end of October that helped with even ripening for the mid to early cultivars. The late cultivars still needed additional water to ensure optimum ripeness. The harvest started in early February at the Beyerskloof cellar with Pinotage and Pinot Noir. From then, the harvest was bumper to bumper as it seems everything ripened at the same time. The last fermentation finished just before the first lockdown. In general, the grapes were healthy and the quality looked better than in 2019. The crop was also bigger compared to the past 4 years!

in the cellar : Optimum ripeness for picking was at 25.7°B. Once destemmed berries went through a sorting system to minimise greenness. Fermentation took place in open casks, with punch downs every 2 hours for 4-5 days. Grapes were pressed before fermentation finished and malolactic fermentation took place in stainless steel tanks. The wine went into new French oak barrels for 20 months and only the best barrels were selected for this wine.
